

Table of Contents

Introduction	1
Part One – The Challenges	9
Chapter 1 – Dean and His Dilemma	11
Chapter 2 – Jill and the Flow of Business	17
Chapter 3 – Stan, Strategy, and the Pretty Binders	25
Chapter 4 – Patrice and the MBA	33
Part Two – The Solutions	37
Chapter 5 – Solving Dean’s Dilemma	39
Chapter 6 – Robert: I Don’t Get This Whole Strategy Thing	53
Chapter 7 – Ted: We Need Objectives Everyone Can Understand	67
Chapter 8 – Michelle in Marketing (Head to Heart)	73
Chapter 9 – How ServessCo Uses KSM: Their Puzzle Box Lid	79
Part Three – The Power of Knowing How It All Fits Together	85
Chapter 10 – Blake: From Laundry List to Action Plan in Two Minutes	87
Chapter 11 – Cathy: Where Should I Put My Marketing Dollars?	99
Chapter 12 – Mike: What Should the Message Be?	109
Chapter 13 – Paul and Debt Leverage	117
Chapter 14 – Terry and Her Product Book	123
Chapter 15 – Chris and IT Architecture	127
Chapter 16 – Charles: The Nonprofit with Multiple Stakeholders	133
Chapter 17 – Scott and the Playbook/Business Plan	139
Chapter 18 – Rose and Venture Capital	143
Chapter 19 – Mitch in Operations	147
Chapter 20 – Pete the Entrepreneur	153
Chapter 21 – Pam the Equities/Stock Analyst	155
Part Four – Challenges and Opportunities	159
Chapter 22 – David and the Greatest Battle Ever Fought	161
Chapter 23 – Which Is Harder to Fight Off, Piranhas or a Shark?	167
Chapter 24 – The Critical Nature of Adaptation	171
Chapter 25 – How to Get Started	175
Acknowledgments	177
About the Author	179